The Turkey was a great warrior, carrying the scalp of his enemy around his neck. It was an important source of meat, eggs and feathers. Turkey feathers were used to make head wear and capes for warmth and ceremonials.

Translations, descriptions, & meanings of birds & months by David Cornsilk

In this month the last of nature's fruits are available. Cherokees would gather persimmons after the first frost and store them for winter consumption. Those born under the Harvest Moon are gatherers, gathering together the things necessary for survival in the lean times of coming seasons.

The Full "Hunter's" Moon is October 14th.
The New Moon is October 30th.
